I came across another version of a lid for the Lowe’s Mini 5-Gallon Bucket online, but it didn’t quite meet my needs — it felt a bit clunky, didn’t flex easily, and the handle wouldn’t fit over the top when attached. That inspired me to design my own version that’s cleaner, lighter, and more functional, while keeping a snug, compatible fit with the Lowe’s mini bucket.

This lid is great for keeping dust, debris, or small parts contained while still letting you use the handle freely. It’s also perfect for organizing hardware, craft supplies, or anything you want to store neatly in your workshop or around the house.

Features:
→ Designed for the Lowe’s Mini 5-Gallon Bucket (compatible fit)

→ Handle clears the lid without interference
→ Smooth top surface for labeling or stacking
→ Prints easily with no supports
→ Test: Printed fine on DRAFT quality with .4mm nozzle. (Photgraphed Above)

⚠ Notes:
Not affiliated with or endorsed by Lowe's — this is an independent, fan-made design made for compatibility only.

⚠ Bucket not included. — The bucket in photos is shown for reference and fit demonstration only.
